WARNS AGAINST FEAR

Thinks Care Should Be Taken Not To Build Up War Party

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover expressed the belief in an interview with Roy W. Howard published today that the defeat of Great Britain and France is impossible.

"If one surveys the whole front—sea, land, air and economic resources—I am convinced the Allies can defend [illegible]," the former president said. "The end may be victory for them. At worst it might be stalemate. I [illegible] possibility that it can be defeat."

The interview, published in the New York World-Telegram, of which Howard [illegible] was based on an expression [illegible] himself that "a dangerous [illegible] is diluting American [illegible] that the idea is spreading [illegible] certain sections of [illegible] France and England are facing defeat and that in order [illegible] the United States [illegible] later enter the European [illegible]."

The former president, who saw the World war [illegible] as head of the Belgian [illegible] American food [illegible] of the war [illegible] trade board, responded:

"It [illegible] the utmost danger in war times of emotions overwhelming common sense. The most regrettable thing that could happen to us would be the building up of a war party in the United States. But the premise of the ideas you mention is wrong.

"The war [illegible] a month old. But the major factors are already emerging. The British and French can and will control the seven seas despite submarines and planes and can sit there until their enemies are exhausted.

"But [illegible] the Allies can protect England and all the outlying possessions of their empires from invasion. They [illegible] can defend France [illegible] danger of taking [illegible] military offensives [illegible] their man power.

"Aerial warfare may be destructive, but that [illegible] ways and so far as all experience goes is not conclusive of [illegible].

"On the sea," Mr. Hoover continued in the interview, "the British and French have naval strength of about 2,500,000 tons against Germany's about 500,000 tons. Russia, even if he comes in, which is improbable, has a negligible navy. Italy has about 600,000 tons.

"German shipping is already driven off the seven seas in 30 days. Italy would have the same fate if she joined in, which at the present time appears also improbable. I am confident that our naval experts will confirm that this dominance of sea power may be damaged but cannot be destroyed by aircraft.

"The submarine may be troublesome, but there has been great progress in methods of detecting submarines since the last war, and this type of warfare is less dangerous than formerly. Even in the last war it had no major effect upon naval command of the seas.

"The losses of merchant shipping in the first month are much less than in the first month after the intensive submarine attack began in the last war. The Allies may have lost perhaps 200,000 tons of merchant ships. They have 20,000,000 tons left, and can hire more. They cannot be starved out of either food or materials by any combination of European powers. The enemy, whether it be Germany, or even Italy or even Russia, must cross the seas to invade with troops either England or the British or French possessions in Africa, India, Australia, or the western hemisphere. Allied sea power will stop that.

"On the military front the sole point of attack is on continental France. France is protected by very much

DEMOCRATS GAIN IN CONNECTICUT

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 3.—(AP)—Connecticut Democrats, swept from control of the state government in 1938 after eight years of power, were heartened today by gains in municipal off-year elections.

The Democrats decisively won mayoral contests in the three cities among the 144 communities which elected yesterday—Bristol, Norwalk and Torrington—and made slight inroads into Republican strength in rural areas which were the scene of most of the balloting.

An even dozen Republican towns switched to the Democratic column, while eight previously Democratic communities went Republican.

Republicans, who had been urged by State Chairman Benjamin E. Harwood to aim for a big vote in anticipation of 1940, retained control of 109 towns, in addition to the eight which switched to the G. O. P. column. Fifteen communities remained Democratic.

NO DIPLOMATIC FORMALITY HERE

Formality had no place at the temporary halting place of the United States embassy staff in Poland during the flight from war-torn Warsaw. This picture made by Elmer W. Peterson, Associated Press correspondent, in a southeast Polish village near the Soviet border, shows Ambassador Anthony Drexel Biddle Jr., helping to load a truck. Now that the United States has refused to recognize the disappearance of Poland in the partition between Germany and Russia, Biddle will remain near the Polish government which has been reorganized in Paris.

7 PLEAD GUILTY, 4 CONVICTED IN MURDER PLOTS

12 More Remain To Be Tried In Death-Dealing Syndicate

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Bulwarked by seven guilty pleas and four convictions without a single acquittal, the commonwealth reached the halfway mark today in its prosecution of 23 persons linked to a death-dealing syndicate which poisoned, drowned and bludgeoned victims for their insurance.

Starting a parade of lesser figures to the prisoner's dock, Mrs. Providenza Miccichi, dumpy 43-year-old fortune teller, was summoned to trial on charges of conspiring to kill Jennie Cassetti, whose husband already has pleaded guilty to murder.

Eight of the remaining defendants also are women.

All of those regarded by the state as principals in the murder scheme are facing the electric chair or life imprisonment. The trials, started last spring, were interrupted by new arrests and are expected to be completed early next month.

Investigators say the murder plots, hatched in the teeming Latin quarter of South Philadelphia, may have taken up to 100 lives in eastern states. Some of the women defendants, the state contends were dupes of the ringleaders and were led to believe the poison they fed their husbands was a potent "witch's compound" with magic powers to make an erring mate "good."

Conspicuous among those yet to be tried is Mrs. Rose Carina, described by detectives as the syndicate's "kiss of death widow." She had five husbands, three of whom the state charges died under mysterious circumstances.

Three defendants changed their pleas to guilty after their trials were under way. The first of these, Mrs.

ROGGE WILL GO BACK TO ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, Act. 3.—(AP)—The Times-Picayune's Washington correspondent said today that O. John Rogge, assistant United States attorney general, in charge of Louisiana scandal investigations, planned to return here during the week of October 16.

The paper said Rogge would confer with United States District Attorney Rene A. Viosca on the progress of investigations dealing with gambling and election frauds.

Harold Rosenwald and Earl Crouter, Rogge's assistants whom he left here, said they were in almost daily telephone conversation with him on the Louisiana cases. The federal grand jury here, which has returned numerous indictments, is still in session.

"Mr. Rogge is participating actively in our investigations," said Rosenwald. "He very often offers suggestions for developing our investigations, and he is continuing to follow the federal cases in Louisiana with the same deep interest he showed while here.

"And it is definitely known that he will return to New Orleans in time to take part in presenting the case here on December 4 against Abraham Shushan and his co-defendants."

Shushan and four others are under indictment for alleged mail fraud in an Orleans levee board refunding deal.

NOE LAUNCHES CAMPAIGN FOR GOVERNORSHIP

Senator Describes Self As '100 Per Cent Huey P. Long Man'

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Approximately 5,000 persons cheered State Senator James A. Noe at a rally here last night opening his city campaign for the governorship.

Noe, once a top lieutenant of the late Huey P. Long, broke with the state administration shortly after Huey's death when his attempt to gain the governorship with the organization's support failed.

Noe, describing himself as a "100 per cent Huey P. Long man," apologized for his support of the administration candidates in the election four years ago.

"They fooled me," Senator Noe said, "as they fooled the people of the state. They promised they would carry on, and I supported them. They fooled us.

OUACHITA FAIR OPENING GATES

Large Throng Expected For Initial Night's Exhibition

The Ouachita Valley fair threw open its gates to the public for the annual exhibition on Tuesday and indications were that there will be record throngs present on the first night. Although the fair was not formally open, there was a large throng present Monday night when the Glad Way was all ablaze with lights and concessions were in full operation.

The Snapp Shows are larger than ever and indications are that they will do a land office business this year.

Booths were being decorated and final touches were being placed on their contents Tuesday morning.

Livestock were more numerous and there was a greatly improved line of animals exhibited over those of a year ago, indicating that the animal industry is forging ahead in Ouachita parish.

The first rodeo will take place Wednesday at 8 p.m. Due to an error in the published announcement in the premium list, it had been incorrectly stated that the opening performance of the rodeo would be on Tuesday night. The fair management stated Tuesday that they desired to make correction.

Judging of exhibits started Tuesday afternoon by the specially designated judges.

The admission to the grounds has been placed low as in former years so that all who desire can take advantage of the opportunity to attend.

PLAQUES COST $8,950

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 3.—(AP)—Acting President Paul M. Hebert of Louisiana State university said records showed the bronze plaques of former Governor Richard W. Leche, placed on numerous buildings at the school, cost a total of $8,950. The plaques were recently taken down from all structures at orders of the L. S. U. board of supervisors.

Hart, Weiss, Smith Plead 'Not Guilty'

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Monte E. Hart, Leon C. Weiss and Dr. James M. Smith pleaded not guilty here today to state charges of embezzling $62,485 from Louisiana State university in the "double move" of a Charity hospital building. Judge George P. Platt, at their arraignment, set the trial date for October 24.

The three defendants, appearing in criminal district court accompanied by their attorneys, waived reading of the charges and were given until October 18 to file any technical pleadings.

Hart and Weiss, contractor and architect, respectively, were released under their present bonds. Dr. Smith, former president of L. S. U., was returned to the federal jail where he has begun serving his 30-month jail term on mail fraud conviction in the

ARCHITECTS AT L. S. U. FIRED, HEBERT SAYS

$25,000 Owed To Weiss, Dreyfous And Seiferth Is Withheld

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 3.—(AP)—Dr. Paul M. Hebert, acting president of Louisiana State university, announced the dismissal as the school's architectural consultants of Weiss, Dreyfous and Seiferth of New Orleans.

He said $25,000 owed the firm and about $131,000 owed Caldwell Brothers and Hart, builder of many L. S. U. structures, were being withheld temporarily.

Weiss, Dreyfous and Seiferth planned and supervised the $13,500,000 building program on the campus and Caldwell Brothers and Hart constructed many of the buildings. Members of both firms have been indicted by state and federal grand juries in connection with the L. S. U. work.

Herbert said later in a radio address that the student enrollment thus far totaled 7,626, or 285 fewer than last year at this time.

"Such a large enrollment," he said, "is of itself an eloquent testimonial of the faith that the parents and guardians of L. S. U. student have in this institution."

He indicated in the state-wide radio address that new irregularities might be uncovered in university affairs.

"Unfortunately," he said, "I am not in a position to say that we have reached the limit of the irregularities that can be disclosed. I do not know when the task will be completed.

"The entire building program of recent years is now being audited and the 'extras' or extra costs on all new university buildings * * * are under investigation. It is hard to describe the magnitude of the work that these audits and investigations entail * * *.

"Every shady transaction will be completely investigated and full public disclosure made as fast as the facts can be assembled."

Herbert reviewed progress already made in reorganizing the university and outlined future plans for improving the school's standing and reputation.

Dr. Herbert said Weiss, Dreyfous and Seiferth had been discharged as

SHREVEPORT MAN IS FATALLY SHOT

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 3.—(AP)—Lieutenant of Police A. M. Bishop and Patrolmen Fred Gallagher, Joe Cox and E. F. Hays today filed a report at police headquarters stating that "W. L. Polk, 64, shot and killed E. H. Cranmer, 36, and cut E. I. Davis four times." The report said the killing of Cranmer, construction superintendent of the city waterworks, and the assault upon Davis, city utilities commissioner, occurred at the South Highlands water plant about 8 o'clock this morning. Polk was employed at the plant.

F. W. Voelcker, Jr., superintendent of the warehouse, who escaped the shotgun blast, said Polk rushed upon them, his shotgun blazing, without warning.

Polk fired a buckshot charge which struck Cranmer in the right chest, killing him almost instantly, then reloading the single-barreled weapon, Polk fired a second charge of buckshot at Davis, who had fled behind his automobile.

Unscathed by the second charge, which shattered the automobile's windshield, Davis rushed Polk and, with Voelcker, overpowered him. Polk allegedly slashed wildly with a knife in the scuffle, cutting Davis in the abdomen. Whether Davis was seriously wounded was not immediately known.

Polk, tied with a rope until officers arrived, refused to discuss the killing, declaring:

"I don't believe I want to say anything."

'CONTINENTAL SEAS' ZONE IS ESTABLISHED

21 Republics Will 'Demand Proper Rights As Neutrols'

'TO REMAIN APART'

Will Not Permit Warring Powers To Use Territories As Bases

PANAMA, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Twenty-one American republics, having outlined a western hemisphere safety zone to insulate them from the European war, today started formal notification to belligerents of their action.

At the suggestion of United States Under-Secretary Sumner Welles, President Juan Demostenes Arosemena of Panama was requested by the inter-American conference to communicate to warring nations the neutrality declaration adopted last night.

The republics voiced their intention of "remaining apart from the European conflict," but declared they would demand their "proper rights" as neutrals. Some delegates called the declaration of Panama a "complement to the Monroe doctrine." They said it established for the first time "continental American seas."

The declaration asserted neutral American republics "have the indisputable right to preserve free from all hostile acts" the waters adjacent to the American continents.

Failure of belligerents to recognize the zone would bring "necessary measures" to be decided upon after consultation.

The declaration of "general neutrality" allowed each country to adopt its own method of making it effective and fixed uniform standards, rights and obligations of neutrals with belligerents.

It provided that American nations should not permit their inhabitants to jeopardize the neutrality of the western hemisphere by their activities, nor permit enlistments or preparation of expeditions in favor of belligerents on their soil.

Other measures said the nations:

1. Shall not permit their territories to be used as bases for belligerent activities.

2. Shall bar belligerent warships from their ports or waters in numbers of more than three at a time and permit their presence for not longer than 24 hours.

3. Shall demand that belligerent craft seeking hospitals in American

REPORT TO BE MADE TO CHEST

A. B. Clarkson To Talk Tonight On Conference In Houston

A report on the recent conference of the southwestern division of the National Association of Community Chests will be made at a special meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight of the campaign committee of the Twin City Community Chest at chest headquarters in Hotel Virginia.

The report will be by A. B. Clarkson, a member of the committee and one of the two delegates of the local organization who attended the conference. Mrs. Mary Mullis, executive secretary, was the other delegate. The conference was held Thursday and Friday of last week in Houston, Tex.

Further organization in connection with the second annual campaign of the Twin City Chest, scheduled to begin October 23, was effected at a meeting of the campaign committee Monday night at chest headquarters.

At that time, it was revealed that several additional organizations had made application for inclusion this year in the Community Chest. The budgets they submitted are now being weighed by the budget committee and the board of directors of the chest.

Organizations presently being financed through the chest are Boy Scouts of America, Camp Fire Girls, Colored Welfare mission, Crippled Children's association, Home of the

POWELL TO DECIDE 'REASONABLY SOON'

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Dean Noble C. Powell of Washington cathedral said before returning to Washington, after a visit here, that he expected to reach a decision "reasonably soon" on whether he would accept the call as Episcopal bishop of Louisiana.

Dean Powell was first elected bishop last May but declined because of an "uncompleted program of work" at Washington cathedral.

He was elected again in Baton Rouge on September 20. Bishop James Craik Morris of Louisiana resigned in March because of ill health.

SENATOR LOGAN FROM KENTUCKY DIES SUDDENLY

Death Takes Proponent Of Repeal Of Arms Embargo

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Senator M. M. Logan, Democrat, Kentucky, died of a heart attack about 2:30 o'clock this morning.

He was 64 years old and had served in the senate since 1931.

The senator had not attended yesterday's senate debate on the neutrality issue but had not been considered seriously ill. A physician was called during the night and was with him when he died.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, announced the senate would meet today only to adjourn out of respect to "this statesman of the highest quality."

Logan favored repealing the arms embargo as recommended by President Roosevelt but had not taken an active role in public discussion of the issue. He had fought for many New Deal measures, including the Roosevelt court bill in 1937.

He was the ranking Democratic member of the senate military committee, served on the judiciary committee, and was chairman of the claims committee.

Logan was elected attorney general of Kentucky in 1915, resigning two years later to head the state tax commission. He was elected to the state court of appeals in 1926 and became chief justice just before entering the senate.

Three sons and a daughter survive.

As a judiciary committee member, Logan had been in the forefront of the court reorganization fight. He was one of the administration leaders in cross-questioning the multitude of witnesses during lengthy committee hearings. When the bill was taken up on the senate floor, he delivered one of the principal speeches in support of it.

After the bill to reorganize the judiciary was rejected, Logan proposed creation of a council composed of senior circuit court judges and the

SHARP LINES DRAWN AT A. F. L. MEETING

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 3.—(AP)—Trade unionists divided in their attitude toward the Roosevelt administration appeared today to be headed for a test of strength on such controversial issues as foreign policy and domestic politics pending before the American Federation of Labor's annual convention.

The first day's session left some sharply drawn lines for prospective debate over the New Deal.

President William Green declared for a broad endorsement of the administration's neutrality revision program and strongly advocated the role of an international peacemaker for the United States in the current European conflict.

In less conspicuous fashion, a proposal came into the convention from Connecticut to put the A. F. L. on record for President Roosevelt and the New Deal and in opposition to "the conservatives of both parties."

Well informed sources reported that another resolution raising the third term issue had been submitted after the filing deadline, but might be barred under the rules from reaching the convention floor.

Prepare To Resist Anticipated Big Drive By Hitler Forces

USE GERMAN FORTS

Engineers Work Against Time And Under Threat Of Artillery

PARIS, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Semi-official sources reported today that French engineering units were feverishly digging in on German soil to resist a land and air drive expected to come with the fading of Adolf Hitler's "peace offensive."

The French estimated they held about 150 square miles of German territory containing about 65 villages.

The engineers, working against time and under the constant threat of German artillery, particularly in the Saar valley sector, were said to be turning to their own use captured German fortifications on the fringe of the Siegfried line.

As fast as French patrols obtained strategic points the engineers moved up and started digging in against the possibility that one day they might have to defend them against a major offensive.

Liaison lines were immediately established with the French rear, across the border, at points along the northern half of the front where the French have made advances, and raiding parties constantly sought German prisoners for questioning to add to the store of military information on the Germans.

The latest official advices from the front reported no heavy fighting in the offensive zone between the Rhine and Moselle rivers. Last night's communique said "local enemy attacks have been repulsed" near Saarlouis and east of the Saar while German

WEST MONROE ADOPTS BUDGET

Many Salaries Raised; Liquor Ordinance Is Passed

The city of West Monroe, at a council meeting held in the city hall Monday night, adopted a budget for the coming year of $87,213.33. The tax rate was set at 17.4 which is the same that has been in effect for the past five years. While the mayor's salary and aldermen are not raised, other salaries were increased. The mayor will continue to receive $175 a month, and aldermen $7.50 a month.

The salary of the city attorney will be raised from $600 to $1,200 a year. The water superintendent will receive $45 a week, whereas his former salary has been $40 weekly. The chief of the fire department will receive $28.50 whereas his old salary has been $26. The assistant to the chief will secure a raise from $18.25 to $20. The chief of police will receive a raise of $10 a month. Day laborers and others will receive raises, according to the action of the council.

Besides adopting the budget for the ensuing year, the council took action on the matter of regulating sales of intoxicating liquors. The ordinance passed provides that all places in which intoxicating liquor is sold must close their doors at midnight every night and the time for opening will be 6 a.m. daily with the exception of Sunday when places are to remain closed all day. Drug stores and cafes which sell liquor can be open Sunday provided all liquor is removed from sight and placed under lock. There will be no curb service permitted. The penalty for violation of the new ordinance will mean the automatic revoking of the liquor license, together, if the court so decrees, with the imposition of a fine and jail sentence.

DEMOCRATIC STATE COMMITTEE MEETS

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 3.—(AP)—The Democratic state central committee gathered here today to fill vacant posts and set the dates for the approaching primaries.

The committee will set January 16 as the date for the first primary and February 20 for the second primary.

Governor Richard W. Leche, now under state and federal indictment, recently resigned as national committeeman and state Democratic chairman.

United States Senator Allen J. Ellender is expected to get the former post and Wade O. Martin, chairman of the Louisiana public service commission, the latter job.

Four new members of the state central committee will be named.

CHAMBERLAIN SAYS HITLER'S WORD USELESS

Asserts 'Effective Prosecution' Of Conflict To Be Continued

'NOBODY WANTS WAR'

'Determined To Secure That Rule Of Violence Shall Cease'

LONDON, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain declared today that Britain would "examine and test" any German peace proposals, but added that "no mere assurances from the present German government can be accepted by us."

Britain and France, the prime minister told a wildly-cheering house of commons, will not yield to what he termed a "scarcely veiled threat" of Soviet-German collaboration.

"No threat would ever induce this country to abandon the purpose for which we have entered upon this struggle," he said.

The prime minister's speech retorted to the Russian-German agreement which partitioned Poland and made a peace gesture with the alternative of Nazi-Soviet "consultation."

He declared "no mere assurances" from the German government could be accepted because that government "too often in the past have proved that their undertakings are worthless when it suits them that they should be broken."

He then added that "If, therefore, proposals are made we shall certainly examine and test them in the light of what I have just said."

Nobody wants the war to continue "for one unnecessary day" he asserted, adding that the British and French people, however, were "determined to secure that the rule of violence shall cease and that the word of governments—once pledged—must henceforth be kept."

Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, was beside the prime minister on the treasury bench as he spoke. Soviet Ambassador Ivan Maisky hunched pensively over the rail of the diplomatic gallery.

Chamberlain told the house that the Soviet-German agreement by no means meant Germany would receive any lasting benefits and contained nothing to swerve Britain from "what we are doing now—mobilizing all the resources of the British empire for the effective prosecution of the war."

Bitterly Chamberlain assailed the Russian-German statement that if the western powers refused peace offers they would bear the war guilt.

"The responsibility for the war rests upon those who have conceived and carried out this policy of successive aggression and it can neither be evaded nor excused," he said.

As he spoke, Premier Mussolini and his cabinet in Rome were receiving from Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano what was presumed here to be an outline of Germany's plan for a quick peace.

Coincidentally the arrival in London of a Turkish military mission and British attentiveness to Spain showed the intensity of the diplomatic struggle over Europe's neutrals.

The house roared its approval of Chamberlain's avowals that Britain could not be threatened into peace and that she would examine peace proposals in the light of Germany's past record.

Labor and liberal leaders concurred. Laborite Clement Attlee said "We must carefully examine every kind of a proposal for peace, but we must deal with realities, and it is no good saying there is peace when there is no peace.

"A mere reversion to the situation of the last year or so would not bring the world back to peace."

Liberal Leader Sir Archibald Sin

but I am still fighting for the principles that Huey P. Long fought for. I am 100 per cent for what Huey P. Long fought for—he fought for the people."

Senator Noe asked his listeners how Earl K. Long and the other state administration candidates could ask the people to vote for them.

"Four years ago," Senator Noe said, "they went around the state and promised the people they would not stand for a sales tax. The Progress (Hammond newspaper) told you that the state administration candidates would never stand for a sales tax, and you now have a sales tax.

"Are you going to believe [illegible] and the rest of that state administration crowd when they tell you something now? If you believe them and vote for them you ought to be taxed to death."

While saying that he stands for law and order, Senator Noe asserted that he advocates the carrying of shotguns and pistols by the people at the polls on election day to prevent the stealing of an election.

"Do not let that thieving gang steal an election," Senator Noe said.

Senator Noe called for a vote on whether the investigations of graft and corruption in Louisiana should continue "and the thieves be sent to jail."

Practically all hands in the crowd shot up spontaneously.

"That's the way the people all over the state feel about the thievery that has been going on," Senator Noe commented.

"Earl Long is going around the state saying he is a poor man," Noe said. "Let him make an affidavit to that effect. Let him make an affidavit that he did not buy the Progress for $315,000, which was paid for out of the 'deducts.' If he makes such an affidavit, the federal government can watch his income tax return."

lain said, "So long as Germany is governed by Hitler and the people who surround him, we will constantly be confronted with a choice between submission to his will and the dread alternative of war.

"This country wants peace, but it is not prepared to buy it at the price of freedom and the moral values of civilization."

White-maned David Lloyd George, speaking in commons for the first time since the war's start, declared:

"If peace depends on the word of Hitler we shall have no alternative but to proceed until we get some other and more assured guarantee."

Referring to the German discussions with Italy at the invitation of Herr Hitler, the World war premier added:

"I do not think Signor Mussolini has shown [illegible] this country [illegible] the last few days. He has on the whole shown a friendly disposition."

Lloyd George continued that "it is [illegible]

THREATS WON'T MOVE BRITAIN AND FRANCE

[illegible]

Britain and France today refused to [illegible] threat of Soviet-German collaboration if European hostilities continue.

Prime Minister Chamberlain acted as spokesman for the British-French allies in a house of commons speech.

He said the allies would examine and test any German peace proposals, but that "no mere assurances from the present German government can be accepted by us."

A "threat" was implied, he said, in the Soviet-German declaration which partitioned Poland and mentioned an alternative of "consultation" if the western allies fail to make peace.

Nothing in the declaration could swerve the allies from "effective prosecution" of the war, he said.

An authoritative Berlin source indicated that Germany and Russia would consult after the western powers declared their attitude.

Informed sources in both Berlin and Rome expressed the belief that no new peace proposal would be put forward immediately by Premier Mussolini as had been suggested after the Italian foreign minister visited Adolf Hitler Sunday.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia gave a strong hint that Finland as well as the small Baltic states would receive Russian demands for naval and military bases.

Talk about peace terms today overshadowed hostilities on European battlefields.

On the western front, France reported "great activity by patrols on both sides during the night."

Germany said there was "only minor artillery and airplane activity."

The French estimated they held about 150 square miles of German territory between the Maginot and Siegfried fortification lines.

On the eastern front, a German communique said "German troops marched into the fortress of Warsaw" and began counting prisoners taken during the September campaign in which Soviet Russia aided in partitioning Poland.

A British air ministry casualty list reported 16 British fliers killed, seven wounded, three missing and five believed captured since the war started.

Diplomats of Europe's capitals speculated on the peace price which Germany and the British-French allies might consider.

Germany looked toward Prime Minister Chamberlain's house of commons declaration today for a clue to the British attitude toward Nazi peace gestures based on acceptance of the German-Soviet conquest of Poland. Both Britain and France previously have indicated they would not consider recognizing the partitioning of Poland.

Chamberlain's speech, informed Germans indicated, would go far toward determining the tenor of the address which Adolf Hitler is to make before the reichstag later this week.

Another influence on Hitler's speech may be Premier Mussolini's reaction to the report which his foreign minister, Count Ciano, brought to him today from his week-end talk in Berlin with Hitler.

Ciano returned to Rome by train and immediately reported to Il Duce. Later he attended a cabinet meeting.

Informed Italian quarters expressed doubt that Ciano's trip would result in any immediate peace move by Italy. They said the Rome government was unlikely to lend itself to any gesture which promised no success and they doubted Britain and France would consider any German peace terms.

Italians waited anxiously, however, for some hint of whether Ciano's Berlin trip had brought Italy any nearer participation in the European war.

Soviet Russia continued the swift diplomatic pace extending her Baltic and Balkan influence.

Estonia already has yielded economic and military concessions to Russia. The Latvian foreign minister conferred with Joseph Stalin and other high Soviet officials.

Moscow observers speculated whether Lithuania and Finland would be the next small neighbors invited to call at the Kremlin.

He held that position until 1917 when he resigned to become chairman of the first Kentucky state tax commission. He was largely responsible for the preparation and passage of laws changing the state's system of taxation.

Logan resigned from the commission in 19[illegible] and resumed private law practice in Louisville but in 1922 he moved his office to Bowling Green, where he has made his home since. He was elected to the court of appeals in 1926 for an eight-year term. He became chief justice in 1931 but resigned to go to the senate.

His first election to the senate was over John M. Robsion, Republican, who was filling by appointment the vacancy caused by the resignation of Frederic M. Sackett. Six years later he was reelected after a bitter Democratic primary fight in which the Chandler administration backed former Governor J. C. W. Beckham.

Logan was an ardent New Dealer and championed President Roosevelt's 1937 court reorganization program.

FRENCH DIG IN ON NAZI SOIL

shells fell "on German localities behind our line."

French units also were engaged in a "war of mines." They were reported to have exploded thousands of them from safe distances. Artillery aided in this by raking innocent-appearing territory given up by the Germans.

One shell set off a string of mines almost 1,000 yards long. They exploded like a string of mammoth firecrackers.

Aside from constant localized parrying efforts the Germans showed little activity, it was reported. This led military observers to believe they had orders to restrict fighting to purely defensive operations while Berlin concentrated on diplomacy.

The Germans still held strong frontal positions immediately before Saarbruecken, it was reported in clarification of previous advices that this capital of the rich Saar industrial basin was three-fourths encircled.

The French were said not to have given battle before Saarbruecken, preferring the tactics of encirclement to a frontal movement. Moreover, the encirclement operations have been anything but precipitate, it was said, because the French feared isolation for their advanced wings on either side of the city.

Some French military writers, in analyzing the French defensive power, argued that the Germans could not stand inaction for long, in view of the quick decision they held Germany needed to counter the British blockade.

more powerful fortifications and armies than in 1914. I am confident our own military experts will confirm that it takes two or three times as many men on the part of attack to overcome the man power behind modern fortifications such as those which surround France. The French army is the best in the world.

"Germany has a population of about 80,000,000 Germans from which to draw man power. The Allied empires have about 115,000,000 white population and 30,000,000 more of fighting which they can draw from to protect France.

"And in their possessions contain another [illegible] people that can aid in food, raw material and munitions production. The Allies can put more men on the front and support them better than the Germans.

"In view of events, Russia and Italy must also be considered in this army picture. While the entry of Italy with a population of 41,000,000 is highly improbable even in such event the Allied man power on defense is still superior. I do not include Russian man power because I am convinced that Russian troops are most unlikely ever to reach the western front.

"This is inhibited by transportation difficulties, shortages of materials, internal weakness, a lack of any national purpose for the Russians, together with the risks to the Germans of such a guest. Those who think Russia might effectively invade India know little of that reality."

As to Germany's air power, Mr. Hoover was quoted as saying "nobody knows whether it is superior or not.

"No doubt the most indeterminate phase of this war so far is the effect of the improved aircraft, the air front. If we assume the superiority of Germany, which is not certain, even supported by their air fleets, yet again in the defense there is the offset to superior numbers by the improved anti-aircraft guns and other ground protection. * * * All experience [illegible] to date shows air attacks can have [illegible] decisive effect on the capture of [illegible] That comes from invasion [illegible]

The Allies on the other hand, produce in their own empires 90 per cent of the needed steel, all their coal, [illegible] copper, lead, zinc, tin, nickel and alloys that they need. And [illegible] the seas are open to them for everything else.

* * * Purchasing power for supplies from outside national borders is vital to belligerents in modern war. The Allies have large gold stocks. They have about 50 per cent of the world's gold production. They have several billions of reserve assets in the United States and other countries which can be turned into purchases. The Allies can secure the great bulk of their supplies from their own empires and there they can arrange internal credits. Germany must buy her large deficiencies from other nations. She has no consequential amount of gold and her credit is not large. She must continue to keep people working on export goods with which to pay. That decreases available man power.

"Morale is important. The Allied peoples are convinced they are fighting on moral foundations and for national existence. Their people will be comfortably fed. They will have staying power. The Germans realize their extreme danger from a long war. They may try a quick, overwhelming attack. It may mean bad days for the Allies, but there is little reason to believe it can succeed. And then the slow strangle of sea power will have its effect.

* * * We need to keep cool. After all we must keep out of this war. We would be yielding the last stand of democracy if we go in, win or lose * * *."

A solidarity declaration reaffirmed the 1938 Lima conference's declaration of "solidarity among the peoples of this hemisphere," pledged the participants to strengthen harmony among themselves and "formulated fervent hopes for cessation of the deplorable state of war" in Europe and "a new reign in the world of peace, not of violence but of justice and right."

All measures adopted yesterday were to be strengthened by a general economic program to be drawn up by a permanent advisory committee to be located in Washington. A permanent neutrality committee of seven international law experts also was authorized.

The neutrality zone begins at Passamaquoddy bay at the United States-Canadian border in the Atlantic, takes in the Caribbean area and Panama canal approaches in both the Atlantic and Pacific.

In the Pacific it includes Quadalupe island 200 miles off the coast of southern California and extends along the North American coast as far as Juan de Fuca straits at the United States-Canadian border. Territorial waters of foreign possessions in the Americas are not included.

The conference approved a Mexican proposal for another meeting in Havana October 1, 1940.

Argentina brought before the conference its century-old claim to the Falkland islands, a British crown colony 250 miles off the south Argentine coast, and said she reserved the "title" to the islands whether or not they come within the neutrality zone. Great Britain always has rejected the Argentine claim.

The session was to close today after speeches by various delegates.

LONG SAYS 3 SOLONS QUIT

Give Up Legislative Posts Rather Than Abandon State Jobs

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 3.—(AP)—Governor Earl K. Long said today that three Louisiana legislators, members of the state house of representatives, had resigned and again assumed executive department positions they held before Attorney General David M. Ellison ruled such dual job-holding was illegal.

Long said besides Representative W. T. Bradford of Rapides parish that Representatives N. Smith Hoffpauir of Acadia parish and B. E. Bickham of Washington parish also have resigned their elective legislative posts.

The governor said the three resignations were all he could recall from among legislators.

All three quit extra state jobs when Ellison ruled they could not hold positions in the assembly at the same time.

Bradford's reappointment at $3,900 annual salary as secretary-treasurer of the state colony and training school at Pineville was announced yesterday by the school.

Hoffpauir has assumed [illegible] position as general counsel for the state highway commission at $7,200 annual salary, and Bickham is back with the highway commission as division maintenance superintendent for Washington parish at $[illegible].

7 PLEAD GUILTY, 4 CONVICTED IN MURDER PLOTS

Carina Favato, 200-pound boarding house keeper, pleaded guilty to poisoning her common-law husband, his 17-year-old son and another man.

The others were Cesare Valenti, huge 55-year-old ex-convict who ended his trial in its fifth day by pleading guilty to complicity in the murder of Mrs. Favato's husband, and Paul Petrillo, dapper tailor, who pleaded guilty on the 11th day of his trial to poisoning Luigi la Vecchio.

Valenti was described by the prosecution as the syndicate's "strong arm" man. Petrillo, the state contended, used his tailor shop in South Philadelphia to plan insurance murders. One witness called it a "butcher shop where they kill people."

A leading figure among those pleading guilty was Morris Bolber, self-styled "faith healer," who took the blame for one murder and admitted receiving fees in at least a half dozen others attributed to the ring.

HARRISON HEADS T-B SEAL SALE

Annual Sale Of Christmas Seals To Be Opened Thanksgiving

Claude Harrison will be general chairman for the 1939 Christmas seal campaign, according to an announcement made Tuesday by the Ouachita Tuberculosis and Public Health association.

The sale of Christmas seals will open officially Thanksgiving day and continue until Christmas. This will be the 33rd annual sale of Christmas seals. Accompanying the sale will be an intensive educational campaign to direct public attention to the problem of tuberculosis, and the modern methods of combatting the disease.

"I know that the Christmas seal campaign can count on the wholehearted cooperation of the people of this community," said Mr. Harrison. "The work of preventing tuberculosis and promoting good health, which is made possible by the red double-barred cross seals, is so well known here that we are confident that we can count on a generous response."

In this campaign the local association is joining with 1,500 other organizations and 1,200 smaller committees in the United States, all affiliated with the National Tuberculosis association in the campaign to eradicate the white plague, which annually takes 70,000 lives in this country.

Ouachita parish had a most successful seal sale last year under the direction of Mr. Harrison, this parish leading all other parishes in the state, it was said.

COURT TO HEAR NATURALIZATION CASES TUESDAY

Monroe Division Of Federal Tribunal Has Light Morning Session

The Monroe division of the Fifth United States district court recessed at noon Tuesday until 1:30 p.m. Judge Gaston Porterie conducted the morning session, and the trial of Arthur Stewart on a liquor charge was continued by the court until Tuesday afternoon.

Naturalization proceedings before the court also were scheduled for Tuesday afternoon. In a light morning session the impaneling of a petit jury and the trial of Stewart occupied the attention of the court.

The federal court convened Monday with Judge Ben C. Dawkins charging the grand jury. After a noon recess, Judge Porterie occupied the bench for the afternoon.

Upon application to the court Monday, United States District Attorney Harvey G. Fields was excused by Judge Dawkins from participating in "certain political matters which may come before the grand jury." First Assistant District Attorney Malcolm Lafargue of Shreveport will handle such matters.

Mr. Fields asked to be excused "in the matter of investigation of federal violations of the law in the 1938 congressional elections of the Fifth district." This was the election in which Congressman Newt V. Mills was declared the winner over Harvey Todd, state legislator from Bastrop. Fields was then chairman of the Fifth district Democratic committee.

Disposition of civil cases Monday were as follows:

Joseph H. Kurth, Jr., vs. Consolidated School District, No. 1, Richland parish, et al, supplemental and amended bill of complaint, motion filed and hearing set for Wednesday.

Mrs. Iramoe Flores vs. Guy A. Thompson, trustee, Missouri Pacific railroad, M. L. Owen and J. M. McDonald, motion of J. M. McDonald that order of Eighth judicial district court in re: interrogatories be declared null and void, exception of no cause or right of action, and plea to the jurisdiction and motion to remand filed by plaintiff, hearing of all motions and exceptions fixed for Thursday.

Harvey O. Cheek vs. Guy A. Thompson, trustee, Missouri Pacific railroad, application for a rehearing and a new trial, hearing fixed for Thursday.

Carey J. O'Neal vs. United Gas Public Service company, motion to dismiss suit sustained and case dismissed at cost of plaintiff.

J. M. Sartor, et al. vs. United Gas Public Service company, objection to allowance of the intervention of Dr. E. A. Sartor and Thomas Sartor filed, taken up, argued, submitted and ordered allowed. Counsel permitted to submit authority on the question of venue. It was also ordered by the court that the true defendant in the case shall be the Union Producing company.

J. O. B. Price vs. Louisiana Rural Rehabilitation corporation, et al, motion to substitute party defendant and order requiring Resettlement administration to show cause why said motion should not be granted argued and motion withdrawn by plaintiff.

Famous Music corporation, et al, vs. Morris Melz, motion for a new trial filed by defendant was passed by the court pending a compromise of the case.

F. N. Boykin vs. United Gas Public Service company, motion for rehearing and reconsideration of motion to dismiss was objected to by G. P. Bullis, attorney for the plaintiff, as coming "too late" and the motion, subject to the objection, was submitted and taken under advisement by the court.

E. P. Mulhearn vs. United Gas Public Service company, motion for rehearing and reconsideration of motion to dismiss also was objected to by Attorney Bullis as coming too late and the motion, also subject to the objection, was submitted and taken under advisement.

Willie C. Woods, et al, vs. Guy A. Thompson, trustee, Missouri Pacific railroad, exceptions to citation and service, passed by the court due to the illness of C. A. Moss, counsel for plaintiff.

W. J. Jeffries and W. D. Jeffries pleaded guilty to contempt charges Monday, but imposition of sentence was suspended and they were placed on non-active probation.

Extended probation was given Monday to L. T. Short, Q. A. Henry, Sam Dye, Percy Hamilton, Leo Jessie Hamilton, LeRoy Horn, Albert Horuff, W. F. Causey, Viola Lindsey and Odell Foster. Gilbert Jiminez, on probation for three years, was transferred to the jurisdiction of the southwest district of Texas. J. E. Harrington was ordered to be placed on active probation at the end of his parole, John M. Lafleur was placed on active probation for five years and the probation cases of LeRoy Howard, E. J. Foley, Woodrow Frisby, Mell Jordan and Ernest Blackwell were refixed for hearing on October 16.

The date of the trial of Guffie Williams, set for Tuesday, was refixed by the court for Thursday.

SAME GUN USED IN 2 DOUBLE MURDERS

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 3.—(AP)—Efforts by police to solve a second "Duck island" murder mystery were spurred today by discovery of a major clue based on evidence that the two slayings were committed with the same shotgun.

The Mercer county prosecutor's office announced yesterday that ballistics tests of firing pin markings on shells showed the same gun was used to kill a married woman and married man last Sunday and a girl and her married escort at a nearby spot last November.

Mrs. Katherine Werner, 36, mother of two children, and Frank Kasper, 28, an auto mechanic and father of a five-year-old boy, were found dead at the desolate spot in Hamilton township last Sunday.

The couple had been shopping together Saturday night, said Chief Richard P. Brettel of the Hamilton township police, and had gone to "Duck island" in Kasper's 10-year-old sedan.

Victims of the unsolved slaying on election day last year were Mary Mytovich, 16, and Vincenzo Tonzello, 20, both of Trenton.

Before she died at a hospital, the Mytovich girl told police a negro shot her escort when he refused demands for money and that the negro then raped and shot her and fled.

Police said the weapon used in Sunday's crime apparently was a sawed-off shotgun.

Joe's a tough customer any time...an old hand at this World Series business...been in three World Series...batting for an average of .301. And Joe's a stone wall on the defense. Whether Joe or "Bucky" comes out on top, a Camel fan wins either way. "I'm often asked about my favorite cigarette brand," Joe says. "Well, it's Camels. Camels are long-burning. They give me the economy of extra smoking per pack—a real saving if you're a steady smoker like I am—they're milder, with a hearty flavor. 'I'd walk a mile for a Camel!'"

Cigarettes were compared recently...sixteen of the largest selling brands...under the searching tests of impartial laboratory scientists. Findings were announced as follows:

1 CAMELS were found to contain MORE TOBACCO BY WEIGHT than the average for the 15 other of the largest selling brands.

2 CAMELS BURNED SLOWER THAN ANY OTHER BRAND TESTED—25% SLOWER THAN THE AVERAGE TIME OF THE 15 OTHER OF THE LARGEST-SELLING BRANDS! By burning 25% slower, on the average, Camels give smokers the equivalent of 5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!

3 In the same tests, CAMELS HELD THEIR ASH FAR LONGER than the average time for all the other brands.

Don't deny yourself the pleasure of smoking Camels, the quality cigarette every smoker can afford.

MORE PLEASURE PER PUFF... MORE PUFFS PER PACK!

"BUCKY" WALTERS...No. 1 pitcher of the National League . . . a hitter likely at any time to win his own ball game in the batter's box...It will be one of the big moments in the history of baseball when Walters and the Cincinnati Reds meet Joe DiMaggio and his New York Yankee team-mates. "Bucky" calls himself a "dyed-in-the-wool Camel fan." He says: "I've never found any other brand—at any price—that gives me anything like the downright smoking enjoyment that I get from Camels. Boy, do they taste good after a long, hard game! Camels burn longer, and that means a nice bonus of extra smokes in every pack."

SAVE ON THE COST OF THE STATE CIGARETTE TAX

Smokers who live in communities where certain state cigarette taxes are in effect can save the cost of the tax—and, in some instances, more—through smoking Camels. (See panel at left.) When you are a Camel smoker, you get this unique economy—and all the extra enjoyment of cooler, milder smoking—the fragrance and delicate taste of finer, more costly tobaccos.

It is commonly believed that eagerness of industrialists and business men for profits was a principal cause of America's entry into the World war. It was not that simple, as any student of the war causes can tell [illegible] the belief [illegible] other investigations is quite general.

In 1939 business goes to [illegible] pains to make its point of view clear. Its position today is that a public will to peace plus wise policies can and will keep us out. A war, the businessmen believe, would bring solid and permanent gain to no one, even to business.

Sudden Solicitude

There is a tinge of madness about war and everything connected with it. But today's war in Europe, with modern propaganda, is so baffling as to leave one limp. The Germans hate the Russians on Tuesday and love them on Wednesday. Poland is an aggressive, cocky military dictatorship in July, but in September it is a martyred republic. An arms embargo is neutrality in July, cash-and-carry is neutrality in October.

To add just one more note to the general confusion: the Soviet atheist newspaper, Bezboznik, is reported very indignant because Orthodox churches in Poland were broken into and turned into Roman Catholic ones. But Bezboznik, whose name means in Russian, "Godless," made its reputation by its bitter attacks on the Orthodox church in Russia.

How It Looks

[illegible]

The pocket battleships [illegible]

British heavy cruisers could not take any of the five but that [illegible] The pocket battleships carry 11-inch guns and in a running battle could put fire on the British cruisers long before they could come in striking range with their six-inch or eight-inch guns. The heavier German ships could do even better. They are armored heavily enough to engage in [illegible] combat with ordinary cruisers and their 11-inch guns would spell ruin to them.

In the whole British navy there are only three ships that can accomplish the double task of running down the five German ships and shelling them into submission. They are the battle cruisers Hood, Renown and Repulse. Armed with 15-inch guns, a speed of 31 knots and carrying 9 [illegible] they could destroy any of the German ships.

Nazis Could Afford It

Once out in the open sea, the German ships could easily pass over the usual convoy of destroyers guarding herds of 30 to 60 merchant vessels. Then it would be a matter of a mad wolf among the sheep. Shell fire from the German ship might put down a dozen or more merchant vessels before they could scatter.

Strategists here have been expecting, ever since the war started, that Germany would make a break for freedom with one of the potent commerce destroyers. She could afford to sacrifice several light cruisers to get one of the battleships through the British North sea patrol.

Once one was out, the British would have to detach at least one of its three battle cruisers to hunt it down. Its effective North sea blockade against further outbreaks of German ships would be weakened by that much. Out on the open ocean, the German ships could provision themselves from raids on commerce, just as did the romantic Emden of World war time. Britain paid dearly for that escape.

OAK GROVE COURT CONVICTS ATTACKER

OAK GROVE, La., Oct. 3 (Special) — Returning a verdict [illegible] a West Carroll parish district court jury Monday convicted Roosevelt Johnson, 28-year-old negro, of attempted criminal assault in connection with an attack upon a white woman near here last August 6.

The jury's "guilty as charged" verdict makes the death sentence mandatory. Judge Carey J. Ellis is expected to pass sentence Tuesday or Wednesday.

The negro was alleged to have made the attempted attack after he had entered the victim's home for robbery. On the same night he allegedly robbed five other homes in Oak Grove. Local officers said he had confessed a total of 27 robberies in southeast Arkansas and northeast Louisiana.

Johnson, who at one time served five years in the Louisiana state penitentiary on a robbery charge, was captured several weeks ago in Arkansas.

CHILDREN'S THEATER TO APPEAR IN CITY

Plans to bring the nationally known Clare Tree Major Children's theater to Monroe were completed last night at a meeting of school officials and other interested persons at Barkdull Faulk school, according to an announcement by Miss Julia Wossman, principal.

The theater will be booked for three different performances here over a three months period, featuring plays from children's classics.

The schedule was announced as follows:

"Rip Van Winkle," January 9, "Under the Lilacs," February 13, and "Aladdin," March 19.

The plays will be presented at Neville High school.

Those present in formulating plans for the bringing of the theater here were E. L. Neville, superintendent of city schools, Paul J. Neal, principal of Neville High school, Miss Wossman, C. J. Fleming, Dick Troy, Otis Cranford, Mrs. Otis Cranford, Miss Sue Hefley, Mrs. J. E. Brown, George Varino, Mrs. George Varino, and Mrs. C. E. Murphy.

BORAH LOUDLY APPLAUDED ON EMBARGO TALK

Repealists Jubilant, However, When Recheck Shows 57 Votes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Trying feverishly to block repeal of the arms embargo, senate foes of the administration neutrality program counted heavily today on the address of Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, to arouse countrywide support for their stand.

The administration forces, however, were jubilant after a recheck of their polls gave 57 votes for repeal. One of their group, Senator Minton, Democrat, Indiana, declared that opposition oratory would not change two votes.

Borah was loudly applauded when he closed the first day of the historic senate debate on neutrality yesterday with the assertion that sale of munitions would mean sending American boys "back to the slaughter pens of Europe."

He followed Senator Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, who opened the administration case by contending that the arms embargo unfairly aided Germany.

Although many senators warmly congratulated Borah after his two-hour address, even some embargo advocates said privately that unless an upsurge of public sentiment quickly developed, the administration would win its long fight to put all trade with warring nations on a "come and get it" basis.

There were a few predictions that debate might last only two weeks. Senator Connally, Democrat, Texas, was assigned to carry the administration argument this afternoon, with Senator Vandenberg, Republican, Michigan, following him for the opposition.

In contrast to the senate's usual rough-and-tumble style of argument, yesterday's session was formal and orderly. Both Pittman and Borah read their speeches, and there were only a few sharp interchanges.

Galleries were jammed. Extra police were on duty, and Vice-President Garner warned spectators against conversation or demonstrations.

Pittman quietly outlined the provisions of the administration bill.

"The maintenance of the embargo," he said, "is a discrimination in favor of Germany, because it prevents Great Britain, which is surrounded by water, from purchasing in our market arms, ammunition and implements of war, whilst Germany, being a land power, has access to arms, ammunition and implements of war that may be manufactured in Russia, Italy, Rumania, Yugoslavia and other countries."

As Pittman ended his unimpassioned speech, Borah stood at his desk across the aisle which separates the Democratic and Republican sides. Senators in the front rows turned around, and many in the gallery leaned forward to catch his words.

Waving his manuscript for emphasis, the 74-year-old senate dean said that the demand to repeal the embargo came from "the war hounds of Europe."

The existing neutrality law, he declared, has effectively sealed American armament markets to belligerent nations. If the new bill is passed, he said, "the munitions maker will get his compensation."

"He will make his profits," Borah continued, lifting a hand above his head. "Business will have to move. But where will the buyer get the money to pay the munitions maker? He will get it where he got the money to pay for the war material purchased during the World war, and that is from the American taxpayer."

Borah asked whether, once the United States had stripped away the arms embargo, it would be possible to "refuse to send our armies" if the allies reached an "hour of greater need."

"I do not see how we could," he added.

"If I believed this was a war to save democracy, a war to save civilization and we were justified in furnishing arms, I would not stop with credits. I would say munitions and implements of war were little enough to contribute to such a cause—give it to them. * * *

"For myself, and for myself only, I look upon the present war in Europe as nothing more than another chapter in the bloody volume of European power politics.

"Whatever may be the philosophy of nazism, however abhorrent we may write it down, it is not the issue in this conflict and its cure is not war."

Repeal of the arms embargo and adoption of a "cash-and-carry system," Borah asserted, would lead to the conclusion by the belligerents that the United States was taking sides in the European conflict.

"I think it is generally conceded," he said, "that the author of the 'cash-and-carry' plan was Bernard M. Baruch, that distinguished financier known well in two continents. It was his resourceful brain that conjured up the idea that we could get money out of war without getting hurt. He declared that cash-and-carry was not neutrality, that it was clearly unneutrality."

Borah argued that requiring belligerents to take title to their purchases before shipping them—as the administration bill proposes—would invite attacks on American factories.

"If a manufacturing plant, we will say, is located at Wilmington, Del., engaged in selling munitions to Great Britain, will the belligerents wait until title has passed?" he asked.

"Will not every munitions manufacturing plant every area of the United States be spotted for destruction?"

FIRE HAZARDS TO BE ASSAILED

Prevention Week Will Be Observed Here On October 8-14

Plans are being formulated by the junior board of the Chamber of Commerce, of which Lee Hodges is president, for the observance of fire prevention week, October 8-14, which is to form a part of the nation-wide celebration.

The three high schools here will be enrolled in an essay writing contest on the subject, open to all students, and for which prizes will be awarded. The schools will be those of the Ouachita Parish High school, St. Matthew's High and Neville High. The schools will not compete against each other but there will be a set of prizes for each school in connection with the essay contests held. The sponsor of this project will be the local fire underwriters' exchange, of which Ed Seymour is president and W. M. Sykes is secretary. Heads of the English department in each high school will act as judges of the papers submitted.

Fire drills will be held in all local schools and home inspection blanks will be distributed to the students of all schools to take home for their parents to fill out. These will show the presence of fire hazards and will result, it is hoped, in their elimination. The circulation of these blanks will be sponsored by Fire Chief Frank J. Kolay and L. J. Hunnicutt, local fire inspector. A total of 7,000 blanks will be distributed to homes through the pupils of the schools.

Talks will be delivered at the schools and over the radio and there will be publicity in the newspapers in an effort to make the public fire-prevention conscious.

TWO MEN SENTENCED FOR THEFT OF COW

Arrested here last Saturday by sheriff's officers for Farmerville authorities on charges of stealing a cow, C. W. Golden and Shermon Key, both 21, were sentenced at Farmerville Monday to 12 months each in prison, Sheriff Milton Coverdale said Tuesday.

The pair were released to Union parish authorities soon after their arrest here. Deputy Sheriff Frank Cline said the possible theft of another cow near Alexandria by Golden and Key was still under investigation.

MANY SEEK TO GET ON YEARBOOK STAFF

The names of 35 applicants for positions on the staff of the Chacahoula, Northeast Junior college yearbook, were presented at the first meeting held. Present plans indicate that the 1940 edition of the yearbook will be larger and more complete than previous editions.

Charles Regan, editor of the book, has announced that a flashlight attachment has been purchased for the staff camera, which will enable the taking of many views by the students. More pictures and humor will be incorporated into the next issue than ever before, it is assured.

The new location of the Chacahoula office is on the first floor of the administration building in the room formerly devoted to the department of music. The removal of the music department to the new building will afford added space for the Chacahoula offices.

So far the only staff positions filled are those of editor and business manager, the last named office being filled by Virginia Brown.

ENGINEERS' POSTS WILL BE FILLED

The United States civil service commission has announced an open competitive examination for the position of winchman, for filling vacancies in this position in the Vicksburg, Miss., engineer district. The salary for this position is $1,500 to $1,860 per annum, less a retirement deduction of three and one-half per cent, and $420 per annum for subsistence and quarters, when furnished.

Applicants must show that they have had as least six months' experience as winchman on marine operations. They must have reached their 18th birthday but must not have passed their 50th birthday on the closing date for receipt of applications. The age limits do not apply to persons granted military preference because of military or naval service, nor to permanent employes in the classified civil service, except that such applicants must not have reached the retirement age.

Applications should be filed with the secretary, board of United States civil service examiners, United States engineer office, postoffice box 60, Vicksburg, Miss., on or before the close of business on October 26, 1939. Full information and application blanks may be obtained from that office; the secretary, board of United States civil service examiners, at any first-class postoffice; [illegible] ager, Fifth United States [illegible] district, new postoffice building, Atlanta, Ga.

FERRIDAY SEEKS THIRD VICTORY NEXT FRIDAY

FERRIDAY, La., Oct. 3—(Special)—Heartened by their second straight victory of the season in two starts when they beat the Grayson eleven, 33 to 7, Friday night on Fisher field, Coach Billy Priester's Ferriday High school Bulldogs began working Monday for their third tilt of the season, another home game to be played on Friday night with Columbia High school.

Columbia formerly held the state class "B" title in Louisiana and is again rated to be potent. The locals will be aided by the return of the cripples, Victor Cross, out with a leg injury, and Gene Fleming, who has been out with a sore throat. These regulars will see service Friday and should prove of much aid to the Bulldogs.

The Ferriday squad, which averages 144 pounds, is composed of the following players: George Bush, right halfback; Victor Cross, left end; Freddie Fedric, left halfback; Gene Fleming, right halfback; Hayes Fleming, center; Ben Green, right end; Hollis Hendrixson, right guard; E. Hutchinson, right end; Bob Lancaster, right tackle; Shelton Lancaster, quarterback; Harry Loomis, right guard; L. Scott, fullback; Thomas Sullivan, center; Jim Summerall, left tackle; Noll Summerall, left guard; John Wactor, left tackle; A. C. Wall, left guard; Todd Wilgus, center; S. G. Williams, fullback; Cooksey Welsh, left end; Austin Wilson, quarterback; Herbert Wilson, right tackle, and W. S. Wilson, left tackle.

SOPHS STAR FOR OLE MISS ELEVEN

UNIVERSITY, Miss., Oct. 3.—(AP)—At least one worry [illegible] of his sophomores [illegible] Coach Harry Mehre's mind Monday as he turned his University of Mississippi Rebels' attention to an expected [illegible] game with Southwestern at Memphis.

If there [illegible] of last Saturday's 14-7 victory over Louisiana State which was more pleasing than others, it was the showing his yearlings made at crucial moments. In fact, that might have been the difference between victory and defeat, for many of L. S. U.'s [illegible] showed a tendency to go awry, maybe from trying too hard.

Mehre Monday named sophomores Chuck Gladding, Joe Pavarnic and Larry Hazel with last year's red shirt Chet Kozel as outstanding in the line. In the backfield Junior Hovious, Billy Sam and Merle Hapes came through with finesse.

Gladding it was who tucked the ball under his arm, the wrong arm, in the excitement and scored the second touchdown on an end-around play without being touched. It looks as though Ham Murphy will have to stand aside much of the time as Gladding plays his right end.

Ado Dubagin and Horace Dowett will be lucky to keep their tackle jobs if Pavarnic and Kozel continue as they did Saturday. Kozel pounced on two L. S. U. fumbles for his most successful contributions.

Hovious' play was Ole Miss' offensive highlight. His 20-yard pass to Bill Schneller put the Rebs in threat[illegible] position, and his gain of 25 yards on two running plays set up the first touchdown on the one-yard line.

LEASE SIGNED FOR ARMY-NAVY BATTLE

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3.—(AP)—The annual Army-Navy football game will be played at Philadelphia's municipal stadium for three more years at least under a lease signed Monday.

The agreement for the site of the 1940, 1941 and 1942 games also contains an option for renewal for two additional years.

It was signed by acting Mayor George Connell, Captain E. K. McKee of the Navy and Lieutenant Colonel Louis E. Hibbs of the Army.

The 1939 game, to be played here December 2, will be the 40th between the two teams and the 22nd played at Philadelphia, the last eight in a row.

NEVILLE DRILLS FOR CLASS A FOE

Mangham Dragons To Give Bengals First Conference Battle Thursday

Coach Percy Brown put his Neville High school Tigers through a long practice session yesterday in preparation for the Mangham High school Dragons, who invade Monroe Thursday night to give the Bengals their first Class A conference game of the season.

With the exception of four players, the Tigers came out of the Greenville, Miss., game Friday night in good condition. Carlton McKeithen, tackle, Clayton Johnson, center and Guy Miller and Jasper Haddad, backs, are suffering from lime burns as the result of too frequent contact with the wet lime, the result of rain at Greenville, but they are expected to be ready for action Thursday.

The Neville eleven went through a two-hour signal drill yesterday and Coach Brown announced last night that a one-hour scrimmage with the regulars working [illegible] minutes on offense and [illegible] minutes on defense was slated for today.

Although the Bengals lost to Greenville, 20 to 0, Coach Brown said his boys "didn't look so bad" considering the strength of Greenville's eleven this season.

The game with Mangham will be played at Brown field, beginning at 8 p.m.

PANTHERS BEAT NASHVILLE 11 TO 0

Old Fred Marberry Holds Vols To One Hit In Dixie Series Tilt

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 3.—(AP)—Ancient Fred Marberry stood out in the [illegible] wind Monday night and came within one hit, a ninth inning single, of turning his second no-hit, no-run game of a grand career of 20 years in baseball.

No [illegible] ever went about his task like Marberry, the 40-year-old veteran, stopping Nashville's Vols, 11-0, to send his Fort Worth mates into the seventh [illegible] deciding game of the Dixie series Tuesday night.

Marberry out pitched, out talked and out foxed the Vols, twice threatening to use his fists in a busy evening. Hardly had the game ended with a fast double play when Marberry threw down his cap and charged the Nashville dugout in search of Catcher Charlie George, his opponent in an early inning word battle.

Only four men reached base on Marberry, two getting walks, one on Shortstop Buster Chatham's error and the fourth, the [illegible] Shortstop Williams' clean single with one out in the ninth. Only five balls were punched out of the infield as the Vols [illegible] at Marberry's great [illegible] of slow curves, floaters and some fast balls.

Fire Calls For Month Less Than Last Year, Hunnicutt Shows

Firemen answered a total of 78 calls during September, according to a monthly report released Tuesday by Inspector L. J. Hunnicutt. One box alarm was sent in and 77 of the calls were the result of telephone reports.

A total of 52 hours and 52 minutes was spent on the calls, which were 3 for business house fires, 3 for residence fires, 53 for grass fires, 9 for trash fires, 6 miscellaneous fires, and 4 miscellaneous calls.

Firemen spent a total of 44 hours and 45 minutes on fire calls, according to Inspector Hunnicutt's report.

Seventy of the runs were inside the city limits of Monroe, eight being outside the limits. Firemen used 1,550 feet of ladder during the month and a total of 14 hours and 20 minutes was spent in pumping.

The total of 78 calls during September compares favorably with 94 runs during the same month last year. Calls for grass fires also were three less than for September of last year, but were considerably higher than a total of 21 runs for grass fires during the same month in 1937.

The company making the most runs during September was No. 3, Inspector Hunnicutt stated.

FLORIDA PREPS FOR TILT WITH MAROONS

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Oct. 3.—(AP)—Florida's Gators, just home from their Texas trip, buckled down to intensive work Monday in preparation for their Saturday night encounter with Mississippi State.

Freshman Coach Sam McAllister, who scouted the Maroons in their 19-0 upset of highly-rated Arkansas, drove home the seriousness of the situation with the comment Mississippi State "really looks tough."

A shoulder ailment may keep Charlie Tate from the contest while Red Mack, a sophomore wingback, who has been on the sidelines with a sprained ankle, may be able to return to action.

SIX-MAN FOOTBALL TEAM ORGANIZED AT CROSSETT

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Stocks lower; peace talks halt rally. Bonds narrow; some rails improve. Curb depressed; selected industrials resistant. Foreign exchange shaky; neutral monies drop. Cotton easy; hedging and Bombay selling. Sugar heavy; Cuba plans unlimited production. Metals steady; September domestic copper sales set new record.

CHICAGO—Wheat sharply lower; stop loss selling. Corn lower. Cattle mixed. Hogs steady to 10 down; top $7.00.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Stock market leaders ran up boosts of fractions to around a point today but fell back as the session wore on.

Buyers failed to get up much enthusiasm at the opening and business lagged all morning. Near the fourth hour prices were well mixed.

Traders were divided in their appraisal of the statement of Prime Minister Chamberlain before the British house of commons. Some saw in his declaration that Britain would "examine and test" any peace proposals but would not accept "mere assurances from the present German government" a possibility that some sort of concord might be achieved soon.

Others held his assertion the German administration "too often in the past have proved that their undertakings are worthless when it suits them that they should be broken" meant some form of guarantee, not yet in sight, would be demanded should the Reich put out another olive branch.

It was observed also that the important and authoritative German news service, Dienst Aus Deutschland, reported that no new peace offer was in sight and that it was unlikely Italy would again make a move in that direction.

London and Amsterdam markets were quiet and steady, with Amsterdam a little lower at the close. Commodities were uneven and bonds pointed a little upward.

Stocks resistant most of the time were United States Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, Douglas Aircraft, Eastman Kodak, Kennecott, Briggs Manufacturing, Peoples Gas, Western Union, Westinghouse Electric and Caterpillar.

Backward were International Harvester, du Pont, Union Carbide, Johns-Manville, American Telephone and Sears Roebuck.

Gainers in the curb included American Potash and New England Telephone.

One cheering word came from the structural steel industry where it was said inquiries and orders during the last month had been far better than anticipated. This was against the usual trend at this season and was due, it was asserted, to the action of trade interests with construction programs ahead in coming into the market sooner than intended because of the spurt of general buying which followed the war declaration.

'NICK' FOR SHORT

TROUTVILLE, Va.—Dr. W. N. Breckenridge delivered a youngster to the R. L. Keslers.

As the physician prepared to leave, Kesler counted out 500 nickels in payment to him.

"Nickel would be a good name for the baby," suggested the doctor.

The Keslers agreed—and so it is.

WILD, WILD WEST

SANTA FE, N. M.—Dedication of McKinley county's new courthouse inspired this invitation to state officials:

"Great paleface council call you heap hogan big'n courthouse blessing Saturday mornin', ten k'lock, October seventh. Indian capital Gallup.

"Much pow wow. Maybe some Chin'ee ah go. Maybe some firewater.

"Bring squaw—bring buck.

"Ugh!"

STOP, THIEF!

DENVER—Mrs. Katie Fay heard a man crying for help, ran from her house with a broom and soundly whacked three men who were beating a fourth.

Just then police arrived. The aggressors said they were bakers who had surprised a thief and captured him after a three-block chase.

By that time, of course, he had fled again.

CONSCIENCE MONEY

LINCOLN, Neb.—Warden Joseph O'Grady of the Nebraska penitentiary got two $1 bills and the following note in his mail:

"Please accept the money for watermelons and vegetables stolen."

O'Grady said the prison garden is unguarded.

EVEN STEPHEN

GRINNELL, Ia.—There should be no necessity for early morning duels for the hand of a first-year lady fair at Grinnell college this year.

The college registrar reported exactly the same number of freshmen men students housed in the men's dormitory as frosh girls living in the women's quadrangle.

RELIGIOUS DRAMA TO RECEIVE TEST

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 3—(AP)—Those who believe religious drama offers Hollywood a field profitable both in good will and at the box office soon will know the answer.

"The Great Commandment," conceived by a Minnesota wholesale grocer's son who became a minister and then a producer, was previewed last night.

In a few weeks it will be taken to the middle west, probably to Kansas, to be shown in small towns to test its audience reaction.

On the result will hinge the film capital's decision of how far it can go in the matter of religion. On it too will rest the personal fortune of the minister with a flair for the theatrical.

He is the Rev. James K. Friedrich, a native of Red Wing, Minn., who is associate rector at All Saints' Episcopal church in fashionable Beverly Hills.

He had an idea, and a legacy which made it possible to test it.

He believed the story of the Good Samaritan could be told in a picture which would reach masses untouched by the church. He visioned Christ's teachings of love for one's neighbor as a plea for peace in a troubled world. "The Great Commandment" is the result.

It is not a religious drama of the costly and massive type of "The Ten Commandments" or "King of Kings." It is not a masterpiece, judged by rigid technical standards. It lacks "big name" stars.

John Beal plays the lead.

DEATHS

[illegible]

After A Man's Heart

by JEAN RANDALL

YESTERDAY: George Weeks tells Buff to be kind to Tim because he had an unfortunate love affair. He tells Tim to be nice to Buff because she seems to have the blues, also.

Chapter Six

Buff Breaks Down

THE letter had [illegible]

Her [illegible]

"Here!" He leaned forward and wiped her face with his own handkerchief, thoroughly and matter-of-factly. "I don't believe crying helps. It'll only give you a headache I should think. However——" Resignedly he put his arm about her. "Howl on my shoulder, my [illegible]. You've certainly earned [illegible]"

[illegible] full advantage of the [illegible] She was homesick [illegible] depressed [illegible] arms about [illegible] to speak [illegible] at last [illegible]

They Don't Want Me

[illegible]

"What did he mean?" [illegible] idea in the first place."

"Oh, it was!" [illegible] "Invading [illegible] I've got to [illegible]"

Slight Misunderstanding

SHE jerked herself up to one elbow, swept the loose waves of hair from her eyes. "You [illegible] Tim Curtis! He's the dearest [illegible] and what do you [illegible] comes to that? You've never laid eyes on him!"

"Nor wish to," he informed her coldly. "I know the kind of guy he is: absorbed in his own concerns—I suppose he calls it his work—and paying no attention to anyone else unless he feels his supremacy is threatened. You're darned well rid of him, Buff, if you'd just face it."

"But I don't want to be rid of him! And you're simply silly about his being jealous. Anyhow, he didn't write, it was she—Eleanor!"

He made frenzied motions with his hands. "So there's an Eleanor in it, is there! I might have known. Always a triangle of some kind, from that in the Garden of Eden straight down through the ages. And Eleanor wrote you! H'm! Doesn't that show you? Doesn't it, Buff?" he urged.

Tears welled into her drowned blue eyes, spilled over the swollen lids.

"Of course it does," she admitted forlornly. "I knew it before, though. It's just seeing it put into words——"

[illegible] Eleanor [illegible]

"What [illegible] When [illegible] whichever [illegible]"

"I [illegible]" she told him in a [illegible] "Something—something [illegible] that's [illegible] I know you're right. I know I should be [illegible] The question [illegible]"

[illegible] writing at [illegible] take an [illegible] and devote [illegible] to writing."

"[illegible] Sounds pretty [illegible] Eleanor says [illegible] Chicago in three weeks and I'm to meet them there, that we'll stay all winter in an hotel apartment. But Lance won't stay all winter there. He'll get a yen to sketch something in some outlandish place—shadows on the snow in Maine, or humming birds in Peru—and off they'll go."

"Off you'll go, too?"

"No. That's partly what I was crying about. I . . . I'm homesick for them for next winter, if you can understand what I'm talking about. I mean, it's no good going through this separation and then joining them again; like—like water closing up over a stone thrown into it. I shall have to stay put, making a life for myself. I can, of course," she said proudly. "It's just the—the getting used to the idea."

"I know what you mean." His voice and eyes were kind. "We'll have to talk——Hello! there's a car coming in!"

Continued Monday.
